Free Tour of Loomis Art Studios Features a Unique Array of Art

The 14th Annual Loomis Art Loop is a free open studio tour that takes place in the rural community of Loomis. On the weekend of May 13th & 14th (Mother's Day weekend) from 10 am to 5 pm, see the work of 17 artists at 6 locations. Meet professional artists at each stop who are ready to show you their work, share their techniques, and "talk art." Download a map for the tour, read artist profiles, and find website links at loomisartloop.com. Each location is within 10 minutes of the next, making for a leisurely way to enjoy fine art and the picturesque Loomis Basin area.

Art in a variety of media will delight visitors. This year's tour includes the following artists in their studios along with guest artists: Paula Amerine, Lisa Bone, Cindy Bonito, Sean Bonito, Victoria Brooks, Judy Butler, Sandy Delehanty, Brenda Dominguez, C.John Dominguez, Steve Harrington, Doug Horton, Louise Noel, Jen Norpchen, Janet Paehlig, Ann Ranlett, Laura Thompson and Sherron Totter. Paintings include watercolor, oil, acrylic, and pastel. Drawings in colored pencil, graphite and scratchboard are the specialties of some of our artists. The clay arts on display will include pottery, raku, and horse hair imprinted ceramics. Additional three dimensional works in metal sculptures, fused glass, and fanciful gourd creatures will be exhibited. Unique jewelry created of metal and stones, beads, and fused glass are offered at three of the studio locations. Guests will also be treated to fiber, art, silk painting, relief printing, and photography.

See a preview of the Loop artists' work at the Flower Farm (9280 Horseshoe Bar Rd., Loomis, info@flowerfarminn.com) where art will be on display April 11th - July 31st in the café and Casque Wines tasting room.

On April 23, from 1:00 pm to 4:00 pm, meet many of the artists at the "Celebration of the Arts", also at the Flower Farm. Visitors can watch artists demonstrate their techniques, order freshly made food from the café, and taste wine at Casque Wines.
